Vice-Chancellor's Message

I would like to extend a warm welcome to the new entrants to the University of Kelaniya while congratulating you on this achievement. You have overcome many obstacles in your academic career to reach this milestone and I am sure you will consider today a memorable day in your life.

Among all the universities in Sri Lanka, the University of Kelaniya is one of the leading institutions not only in terms of physical and human resources but also in introducing innovative curricula. The University also has many facilities that support academic excellence and is on par with any international university.

The origins of the University can be traced back to the educational institute that was instigated in 1860 at the Rathmalana Purana Vihara. This was a result of the revival of the excellence of local education that had existed for centuries in Sri Lanka. I wish to pay my tribute to Ven. Rathmalane Sri Dharmaloka Thero who pioneered this noble endeavor.

The Vidyalankara Pirivena which was established in 1875 received university status in 1959. Today, the University comprises the faculties of Humanities, Social Sciences, Commerce and Management Studies, Science, Medicine, Postgraduate Studies as well as the newly established Faculty of Computing and Technology.

I am proud to declare that the University of Kelaniya is one of the leading tertiary educational establishments which has identified the needs of the time and is in the process of exploring the horizons of different study streams. We have been able to provide high quality education thanks to our highly qualified and experienced academic staff. We expect that you will benefit from those opportunities in order to reach your full intellectual potential.

I can guarantee that the educational experience that you receive at the Faculties of Humanities which is the center of excellence for eastern and western languages,

Social Sciences, Commerce and Management Studies, Science, and IT are second to none. Also, the extracurricular activities that the University is committed to provide offer a wholesome educational experience.

Sri Lanka is a country which has a proud heritage and at this stage it is taking rapid strides towards developing human and physical resources. In this context, I wish you the best of luck in assuming the role you have to play in fulfilling the expectations of your parents and actively contributing to the development of the nation.

Prof. D.M. Semasinghe
Vice-Chancellor
University of Kelaniya

Also, as a forward-thinking institution, we regularly organise many programmes to uplift the quality of our undergraduates through personality development, soft skills training, and sports. I firmly believe that all of you will make the best use of these facilities and resources that have been made available to you to become eminent and virtuous citizens that will make a meaningful contribution to the world.

UNIVERSITY OF KELANIYA

The Origins

The training program for the Pracheena Examination that began in 1860 at the Rathmalana Purana Vihara for Buddhist monks and laymen marks the beginning of this historical educational establishment. Later, in 1875, the Vidyalankara Pirivena was established in the Kalaniya Peliyagoda area by the late Ven. Rathmalane Sri Dharmaloka Thero. Since then, over a century, the University of Kelaniya has been a renowned educational establishment for Pracheena Bhasha. The Sri Lanka government granted the Vidyodaya, Vidyalankara Pirivena university status by the Vidyalankara University Act No. 45 in 1957. On the 1st of January, 1959 the University was renamed as the Sri Lanka Vidyalankara University. The late Ven. Kirithuduwe Sri Pannasara Thero was appointed as the first Vice Chancellor of the University.

The Evolution of the Vidyalankara Campus into the University of Kelaniya

The University of Ceylon Act No.1 of 1972 consolidated all universities into one university, and from February 15th of 1972 onwards the Vidyalankara University became a Campus of the University of Sri Lanka. With the promulgation of the Universities Act No. 16 of 1978, the university system in Sri Lanka was restructured and the Vidyalankara Campus was restored to its independent status retitled as the University of Kelaniya, Sri Lanka. According to the 1957 Act, only male undergraduates, that comprised both clergy and laymen, were enrolled, and with the Higher Education Act No. 20 of 1966 female undergraduates were also given the opportunity to study at the University.

Contemporary Status

In order to expand its space, the University had to be shifted to a new location, and from the Academic Year 1965/1966 onwards, the University of Kelaniya was relocated in the current premises. By the year 1959, the University comprised five faculties: Languages, Buddhist Studies, Arts, Science, Philosophy and Research. Currently, the University has expanded its faculties to include Humanities, Social Sciences, Science, Medicine, Commerce and Management Studies, Postgraduate Studies, Computing and Technology including a total of 55 departments.

Location

The University is located in the Kelaniya Dalugama area which is approximately 8 kilometers north of Colombo along the Colombo Kandy road. The closest railway station is in Pattiya Junction. Except for the Medical Faculty, which is located in Ragama, all the other faculties are located in the Kelaniya Dalugama premises.

Affiliated Institutions

There are three institutes affiliated to the University: the Postgraduate Institute of Pali and Buddhist Studies, located in Kohuwala; the Postgraduate Institute of Archeology, located in Colombo 7; and the Gampaha Wickramarachchi Ayurveda Institute, located in Yakkala.

VISION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KELANIYA

To become a centre of excellence in creation and dissemination of knowledge for sustainable development.

MISSION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KELANIYA

To nurture intellectual citizens through creativity and innovation, who contribute to the national development.

Department of Linguistics

An independent department for linguistics in the university system in Sri Lanka was first established in the University of Kelaniya, under the Faculty of Humanities in 1972. During the past four decades, the Department of Linguistics has introduced four degree courses namely Linguistics, Translation Studies, Translation Methods and Tamil as a Second Language. Further, the Department offers Tamil Language as an elective course and two Certificate Courses for Sinhala and Tamil Languages.

Linguistics

Linguistics is the scientific study of language. It does not only focus on one particular language but it is a common study on all human languages. It discusses about the identity, composition, history of the human languages as well as the relationship of languages with other subject areas.

There are subjects that lead a candidate to pursue practical studies utilizing linguistics knowledge. Clinical Linguistics, Applied Linguistics, Communication Disabilities, Sign Language, Lexicography and Language Planning are among such subjects. This course introduces scientific information that should be known by language scholars who follow higher studies in the discipline.

Pre-requisites are not expected. This course is open for any scholar of the Faculties of Humanities and Social Sciences who is interested in studying language scientifically.

Translation Studies

Translation Studies is a subject limited only for the B.A. (Honours) Degree. Students from any A/L subject stream can follow this course given that they get through the Aptitude Test held by the University and get selected by the University Grants Commission on an Z- Score based criterion. The scholars are expected to improve proficiency in Sinhala, English and Tamil languages along with theoretical knowledge and practical training in translations.

Translation Methods

This is a practical subject limited only for the B A degree. The scholars who select Translation Methods are expected to be competent in both the Sinhala and English languages. The students who wish to follow this subject shall sit for an examination conducted by the Department of Linguistics. In teaching Translation Methods, both the Sinhala and English languages are used. At the end of the course, i.e. in the third year, the scholars have to follow a course unit of professional training with regard to translations.

Tamil Language Courses

The scholars who wish to follow Tamil as a second language should possess an ‘S’ pass for Tamil - second language at the G.C.E. (O/L) examination and they should pass the eligibility test conducted by the Department of Linguistics. However, any person can follow the Tamil language as an auxiliary subject. Pre-requisites are not expected for that purpose.

Diploma in Sign Linguistics Interpretation

This course is conducted for two years and the students can register in the first and the second year to follow this course without fulfilling any pre-requisites.

Modern Language Certificate Course - Sinhala / Tamil

These courses are conducted for two years and the students can register in the first and the second year to follow these courses without fulfilling any pre-requisites.

Post Graduate and Diploma Courses

The Department offers two year M.A in Linguistics, Master of Philosophy in Linguistics and Doctor of Philosophy courses.

There are two fee-levying (weekend) courses- Diploma in Tamil Language and Diploma in Translation & Interpretation. These are one year courses and a fee-levying Higher Diploma Course in Trilingual studies is conducted for the external students who show an interest in learning Sinhala, Tamil and English languages.

Department of Pāli and Buddhist Studies is a pioneering department at the University of Kelaniya which was known as the 'Buddhist Faculty' in the period of the Vidyālankāra University. The main purpose of the Department is to promote large areas of studies and researches of Buddhism giving pivotal attention to Pāli

Canon while also academically scrutinizing the teachings of the Buddha together with its philosophical and cultural aspects. Indeed, the mission of the department is to enable the students to handle the wide field of Buddhist Studies successfully. Consequently, Pāli, Buddhist Philosophy, Buddhist Culture and, it newly begins, the subject of 'Buddhist Psychology' are the main subjects in the curricula of this Department. It offers both Degrees of Buddhist studies in undergraduate, in which both the General and Special Degrees, and postgraduate levels (B.A./ M.A./ M.Phil./ Ph.D.). As a result of the interest in the study of Buddhism, this department has acquired a remarkable upsurge of fame among the other academic Buddhist institutions not only in Sri Lanka but also overseas. Thus, a remarkable number of foreign students, from various countries such as China, Korea, Vietnam, Cambodia, Myanmar and Bangladesh, are pursuing their academic brilliantly in the department. Further, countries such as Singapore, Malaysia and China, conduct their academic works in their Buddhist Studies institutions and conferment of degrees following the subject syllabi and other relevant guidelines at the Department of Pāli and Buddhist Studies in the University of Kelaniya.

Pāli

The Pāli language occupies an important place among the classical languages that still have a historical value, besides being replete with rich literary and semantic qualities. The main purpose of offering this subject is to prepare the student to apprehend Buddhism correctly. Further, through a systematic analysis of the content of the Tipiṭaka, the students are introduced to a wide-range of knowledge not only of Buddhist thought but also of the contemporary religious systems of India. This syllabus is meant to provide the student with an opportunity to acquire proficiency in the Pāli canon and in its traditional exegeses. It also includes an inquiry into the canonical standpoints with regard to areas such as Buddhist Epistemology, Buddhist Logic, Aesthetics and Poetics. In order to further enhance the students' comparative knowledge, strict attention is drawn at the primary sources in hybrid Sanskrit and Prākṛit.

Buddhist Philosophy

Buddhist Philosophy is, one of areas of knowledge, unique among Indian thought. Its specialty relating to other traditions is the integration of its philosophy and the fact that for over two hundred thousand years, it has been the nurturing force of Asian life and thought and this phenomenon continues to this day. We have three Canonical traditions and versions that are helpful to comprehend the fundamental characteristics and subject area of Buddhism. They are the Pali, Chinese and Tibetan Tipiṭakas. The oldest among them is the Pāli and it is mainly expected to study the thought in the primary sources such as the Pāli Tipiṭaka, Aṭṭhakathā, Ṭīka according to historical, critical and comparative academic methodologies.

While embracing the areas such as analysis of man and the world, ethics, epistemology, analysis of psychological phenomena, society, economy and political philosophy, and communication, this subject also includes Mādhyamika, Yogācāra and Vajrayāna philosophies and more related study areas. This study also includes the development, distinctive features and fields of Buddhist philosophical traditions of varied geographical areas. In the subject of ‘Buddhist Philosophy’, facilities are provided to study from the First Degree unto the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy. Further, the students can pursue the studies taking medium as Sinhala or English.

Buddhist Culture

In the area of Buddhist Culture an advanced study of Buddhism and the evolving of culture is pursued. Here facilities are provided for studies ranging from B.A and (Honours) degrees upto MA, PhD degrees. A student passing G.C.E (A/L) in any Arts subject qualifies for following this subject for the B.A. Degree programmed. “Buddhist Culture” comprises chiefly of Cultural Background in India, Fundamental Principles of Buddhist Culture, Source Studies, Buddhist Arts and Archaeology, Social Institutions and Thought, Rites, Rituals, and Customs, Sri Lankan Buddhist Culture, Trends and Global Expansion of Buddhism, Mahāyāna Buddhism and Comparative Study of Religion. Additional courses of study have been introduced for the study of Sri Lankan culture in accordance with relevant and modern studies and trends for the increase of knowledge in the field, such as Management, Counseling, Environmental Ethics, Buddhist Arts, Āyurveda and Astrology. The subject units could be followed by any student reading any subject and does not require prior qualifications. In view of the increasing demand for knowledge of Buddhism, both locally and internationally, facilities are provided for the study of the subject in both Sinhala and English.

Buddhist Psychology

Modern Psychology is recognized as a science, a field of philosophy, which studies Psychology of mind in depth. Indeed, in taking main intention of Modern Psychology into consideration, in a nutshell, it is aimed to provide a comprehensive psychological guidance for societal people to succeed their lives, as well as, to get rid of problems related their day today lives. As a result of increasing problems of the society, the field of Modern Psychology has also been widen introducing a large number of sub-fields such as Counseling Psychology, Clinical Psychology, Child Psychology, School Psychology, Educational Psychology, Developmental Psychology, Abnormal Psychology etc. and it is also prime important that each of these fields is of a number of more sub severances.

On the other hand, it could be said that Buddhism itself represents a profound degree of human mind and it is therefore termed here 'Buddhist Psychology'. In truth, Buddhist Psychology is evidently aimed to amplify all fundamental causes and derivations of problems related for the individuals so as to achieve human-well being through the mental development. Indeed, as the above noted characteristic of Buddhism, it cannot be dichotomized as Buddhism and Psychology. However, at present, Buddhist teachings are being studied and assisted to help for the people by mixing up with western theories of Psychology by the westerners. Even though, Sri Lankans belong this valuable and profound psychological philosophy, unfortunately, still, we have not been able to employ it for the benefit of the Sri Lankan society. Therefore, by looking at this inadequacy of putting Buddhist teachings into practice in the society, as a distinguished national university, we have decided to establish a foreign academic field of studying Buddhism introducing both the General and Special Degree of "Buddhist Psychology." When it comprises contents of the Degree, students will be able to study areas such as fundamentals of Buddhist Psychology, Buddhist Cognitive Psychology, Buddhist Concept of Psychiatry, Psychology of Death in Buddhist Perspective, Buddhist Analysis of Psychological Disorders, Mindfulness Based Stress Management, Buddhist Counseling Psychology, Meditation for Development of Human Competencies etc. Further, this subject can also be followed taking medium as Sinhala and English. Therefore, finally, it takes our pleasure to mention that this kind of Degree cannot still be obtained from any University of Sri Lanka.

The Sinhala Department of the University of Kelaniya conducts courses in Sinhala and Literary Criticism under two streams: BA and BA (Honours). It is not a requirement to have offered Sinhala Language as a subject at the G.C.E. (A/L)

Examination. The Department also provides facilities for M.A, M.Phil., as well as Ph.D. degrees. It also provides facilities for research leading up to advanced studies. The Department also conducts a one year certificate course and as Six month certificate course in Sinhala for foreign students. In addition, a one year Diploma course in Sinhala has been conducted for non-Sinhala Sri Lankans.

The B.A. as well as the B.A Honours Degree has been designed to include academic analysis of Sinhala language & Grammar, Inscriptions, Palaeography, Classical Sinhala Prose, Verse, Aesthetics, Literary Theory, Sinhala Culture, Arts & Architecture, Modern Sinhala Short Stories, Novels, Poetry, Sinhala Drama and Sinhala Cinema. In addition, the Sinhala Department has introduced a Course in Literary Criticism for the B.A. Degree as well as for the Honours Degree. Students are registered into Honours Degree Courses on the basis of high marks obtained at the first year examination.

It is observed that the knowledge of undergraduates with regard to Sinhala Language is questionable. The students who have not studied Sinhala after their G.C.E (O/L) Examination face serious problems in writing in Sinhala. Based on this premise the Department of Sinhala has designed several optional courses for such students. Any students from the Faculty of Science, Commerce & Management Studies, Social Science & Humanities can apply for these optional Sinhala course units.

Furthermore, a Sinhala Language Certificate Course has been introduced under the Modern Language Certificate Programme for the non-Sinhala speaking students. A prior knowledge in Sinhala language is not required for this course.

The first year undergraduates who enroll in both Social Sciences and Humanities Faculties can apply for the undergraduate degree programmes in Archaeology, Anthropology and Tourism and Cultural Resource Management (TCRM) offered by the Department of Archaeology of the Faculty of Social Sciences. There are no prior requirements to enroll in these programmes. Students can apply for Honours degrees in Archaeology or Tourism at the end of the first year on the basis of the cut-off results of the first year examination. The number of the students admitted for each Honours degree course will depend on the availability of the resources at the Department. Students have the opportunity to use the departmental resources such as the lab, the library and the museum, for their studies.

The Department maintains close ties with the Postgraduate Institute of Archaeology at Colombo 7, affiliated to the University of Kelaniya and students can use the resources available there and participate in research work organized by it. The Department of Archaeological Survey and the Central Cultural Fund are the main legal bodies in the field of Archaeology and both of them are currently chaired by the alumni of this Department. Also many current archaeological projects are directed by the academic staff of the department. Further, the department has a close relationship with Tourism related governmental authorities such as Sri Lanka Tourism Promotion Bureau, Sri Lanka Tourism Development Authority and with non-governmental organizations as well. Therefore, the undergraduates can upkeep their field practice by participating as interns to the projects initiated by the above Institutes. Especially the TCRM Honours degree undergraduates have to participate in practical training and internships as partial requirement of the degree programme. These students have to learn one modern language (Japanese, Korean, Chinese, German, Russian, and French) as well.

Since the academic year 2012/2013, the undergraduates are provided by the Tourism and Cultural Resource Management (Honours) Degree Course in both English and Sinhala media. The lectures are conducted in English for the English medium students and for the Sinhala medium students the lectures are delivered bilingually. The course contains diverse disciplines that enhance knowledge in tourism and cultural resource management.

The Department offers one year diplomas in Archaeological Heritage and Anthropology, Master of Philosophy (M.Phil), Master of Social Sciences (MSSc.) and Master of Arts (MA) courses beside the undergraduate degree programme.

The Bachelor of Arts Degree programme is conducted according to the course unit system. Duration of the programme is 3 years and there are two semesters per year. This degree programme has been organized in order to facilitate the flexibility of selecting subject combinations of the students' own choice.

A course that belongs to one particular subject comprises of a number of course units. One course unit may include lectures for 30hrs, 60hrs or 90hrs. The course units have been named starting from four English letters and a numeric code. Four English letters depict a summary of the English word that identifies the subject.

Opportunities are available for students to select three major subjects or subject combinations inclusive of 2 major subjects for the Bachelor of Arts Degree programme. Such combinations have been prepared enabling the undergraduates to gain sufficient and profound knowledge pertaining to different subjects. In addition to the compulsory course units of her/his own subject combination, this system has allowed the student to follow the subjects offered by other Faculties such as Humanities, Social Sciences as well as the Faculties of Commerce and Management Studies, and Science, according to their own choice.

In order to measure the value of a course unit, a unit of measurement has been introduced as credit hours in comparison with the number of lecture hours allotted for the respective unit. Accordingly, one credit consists of a course unit of 15 hrs lectures within one semester, which has 15 weeks, with one hour lecture per course unit. Each student should follow course units aggregating to at least 30 credits in each academic year. For the B.A. degree, the students should accumulate at least 90 credits based on the course units followed during the three academic years. Prerequisites are necessary for selection of some subjects for the B.A. degree programme, as described in this Handbook, and listed under the section 3.1.

The Department of Human Resource Management conducts the Bachelor of Human Resource Management (Special) degree programme which focuses on the field of Human Resource Management comprehensively. A six month practical training programme in HRM/HRD or in non HR fields or undertaking a Small Business Project is also included in the curriculum for the final year students with effect from the academic year of 2011/2012. Moreover, an external degree programme of Bachelor of Business Management (General) relating to the management field has been conducted by the Department since 1999, and there is a high demand for this degree programme.

Since the year 2006, this Department has been offering the Postgraduate Diploma in Human Resource Management (PGDHRM) and Master of Human Resource Management (MHRM) degree from 2010. The MHRM programme further offers a scholarship for the "HR Student of the Year" to follow MHRM programme and two scholarships to follow PGDHRM to the "Outstanding Student Performance" and to the "Highest GPA Holder". In addition to that the Department initiated to offer the Diploma in HRM and a Higher Diploma in HRM since 2014. The Department publishes the journal of "Kelaniya Journal of Human Resource Management" once in a six month since 2005.

Bachelor of Human Resource Management Degree

This study programme is consisted of compulsory and optional course units, in level four, the B.B.Mgt. (HR) Special Degree offers two sets of optional course units; (i) Human Resource Maintenance and (ii) Human Resource Development in order to cater to the developments taking place in the industry.

The compulsory course units are identified as subjects that provide the core knowledge and skills required to perform relevant jobs in the HRM field. These compulsory course units cover areas of Human Resource Management and Human Resource Development, Skills Development Management, Economics, Information and Communication Technology, Law, Sociology and Psychology, Organizational Behavior, quality Management, Accountancy and Finance and Project Management.

Our curriculum focuses on student development through its course work and extracurricular events. Action Learning projects, industry based assignments, workshops and special skills projects are powerful means we use to develop students' skills and competencies. AHEAD (Association of Human Resource Escalation and Development), our student arm is the platform for HRM students to plan, organize and implement their activities in organizing CSR projects, students' talent shows, industry collaborative events and other skill based student activities.

The Department of Botany was established in 1967 but commenced its academic activities only in 1968. All Biological Science students admitted to the Faculty of Science are eligible to follow courses in Botany. During the first few years after the inception of the department, traditional courses in Botany such as Physiology, Biochemistry, Ecology, Genetics and Taxonomy were taught. With the recruitment and training of new staff, special areas like Microbiology, Plant Pathology, Environmental Management, Molecular Biology, Biotechnology, and Post-harvest biology, Bioinformatics, Horticulture and Quantitative Ecology were introduced into the Botany curriculum. As a result of strengthening teaching and research in the areas of Molecular Biology, Genetics and Biotechnology, a new discipline, Molecular Biology and Plant Biotechnology (MBBT) was introduced by the Department of Botany in 2002. Currently a limited number of students (20) are enrolled annually for the MBBT discipline in the undergraduate programme.

Academic staff members carry out their postgraduate research with funds from National Science Foundation (NSF), National Research Council (NRC) and the Ministry of Science, Technology & Research under the Indo- Sri Lanka Joint Research programme, and most of the research are carried out in collaboration with national research institutes.

Three awards, namely, Alumni Association of Faculty of Science Gold Medal, Professor I. Balasooriya Memorial Award and the scholarship of the Botany Society are awarded to the best students in Botany and Molecular Biology and Plant Biotechnology disciplines.

A well-maintained botanic garden of one and a half acres in extent which contains rare, endemic and medicinal plants is maintained for teaching and research purposes. The garden, along with its new plant house, provides space for undergraduate and postgraduate research.

Structural and functional improvements introduced by the World Bank funded-project (IRQUE) to enhance quality and relevance of the degree programmes are further maintained even in the aftermath of the project. Department is well equipped with human and physical resources to use effective student-centered pedagogical methods to deliver knowledge and skills.

Department of Botany offers BSc and BSc Honours Degree programmes on two disciplines, i.e. Botany and Molecular Biology and Biotechnology (MBBT). Students are selected for the BSc Honours Degree programmes on the above two disciplines at the end of their second academic year (Level 2) depending on their academic performance in the first two years. Selected students will offer relevant course units in Botany/ MBBT and also that of a subsidiary subject, offered under the BSc Degree programme for the Level 3 (First half of the Honours Degree programme) and for the Level 4 (Second half of the Honours Degree programme) they carry out a research project in addition to the course units offered relevant to the main subject that they specialize. Results of the research will be presented orally and as a thesis at the end of the 4th year for assessment.

Optional course units on the applications of botanical, molecular biological and biotechnological knowledge are offered in the second semester of the third year (Level 3). Besides, a course unit on ‘Organic gardening’ is offered every other academic year to the non-biology students in the Science and other Faculties of University of Kelaniya.

The Department also facilitates postgraduate programmes by research leading to MPhil / PhD in addition to that a new postgraduate study programme (SLQF level 10), MSc in Crop protection and Plant Biotechnology was introduced in 2016.

Department conducts floriculture related research activities at the 'Floricultural Research Centre' which was established at Henerathgoda Botanic Garden, Gampaha in 2015, with all facilities to carryout research on developing new ornamental plant cultivars using modern molecular biological tools and formulation of artificial culture media. These facilities are available for undergraduate and postgraduate research activities in the department.

Introduction

The Department of Industrial management (DIM) was established in 1967 with the objective of teaching Management to students reading for degrees in the science streams. The department pioneered the revolutionary concept of integrating Management with Information Technology through the offering of the very popular Bachelor of Science in Management and Information Technology (MIT) degree. The programme leveraged on the expertise of its academics who have specialised in the areas of Software Engineering, Computer Science and Information Technology among others. In addition, the department introduced a new degree programme, Bachelor of Science in Software Engineering for the very first time in Sri Lanka university system. The department is also unique in that, it has a combination of highly qualified academic staff trained in both Management and information technology areas working in one department, which is unsurpassed anywhere in the country. Our students enjoy a very high employability level and are most sought after by the industry as a productive human input to their organizations.

B.Sc. (Honours) in Management and Information Technology degree programme

Leveraging on the strength of academic expertise and the national and international demand for skilled personnel, B.Sc. in Management and Information Technology (B.Sc. Honours in MIT) has been restructured as a four year Honours degree. It is dedicated to make undergraduates independent, exploratory, application oriented and provide them the required soft skills that make them truly mobile in the corporate world. Those who are selected to pursue B.Sc. (Honours) degree in MIT will also be given the opportunity to major in any one of the following areas in their 3rd and 4th levels. These are; Information Systems (IS), Information Technology (IT), Business Systems Engineering (BSE) and Operations and Supply Chain Management (O&SCM).

The department is expecting in introducing a new degree programme in B.Sc. (Hons) in Information Technology in the year of 2019.

The Department of Mathematics was among the first few academic departments established when the Vidyalandara University was founded in 1959. The Department, which was functioned under the Faculty of Arts was absorbed into the Faculty of Science when the latter was commenced in 1967. Since then as one of the eight departments in the Faculty of Science the Department of Mathematics has been expanding the frontiers of mathematical understanding on a wide range of topics over years.

The Department of Mathematics offers course units in two major subjects for the B.Sc. degree in physical sciences, namely Pure Mathematics and Applied Mathematics. The Department also conducts a B.Sc. honours Degree Programme in Pure Mathematics and Applied Mathematics, a B.Sc. honours Degree Programme in Mathematics and Statistics with collaboration of the Department of Statistics & Computer Science and a B.Sc. honours Degree Programme in Mathematical Physics in collaboration with the Department of Physics.

Based on the performance of Level I and II the students who show high competency are selected for the BSc Honours in Mathematics degree programme at the end of the second year of the Bachelor of Science in physical science degree programme. To be eligible for BSc Honours in Mathematics degree programme, the student should have followed course units in the subjects Applied Mathematics of Statistics of both with Pure Mathematics in the BSc degree programme.

In addition, the Department offers few course units in Mathematics specially formulated for B.Sc. in biological science, Management and Information Technology and Software Engineering degree programmes. These course units have been designed for non-Physical Science students to grasp the mathematical concepts in their disciplines and enhance their job prospects.

The department offers PhD and M.Phil. Degree in Mathematics by research and the members of the department create, communicate, and apply mathematics of the highest caliber through activities such as internationally recognized research and undergraduate education and extensive outreach to local schools.

The central goal of the Department of Mathematics at the University of Kelaniya is to provide intellectual leadership in the field of Mathematics that is of direct benefit to the country and its citizens and commands national and international respect for its depth of scholarship.

The Department of Microbiology is the only department of study in the island's university system that is established exclusively to offer Microbiology as a main subject for the B.Sc. Degree. A wide range of industries and services require the services of microbiologists and hence, the employability of the graduates of this subject remains high. The majority of Biological Sciences students usually apply to follow microbiology as a subject and yet, the limited space in the laboratories does not permit to accommodate all. The Department increased the student capacity by 20%, from 50 to 60, from the academic year 2012-2013. The performance of Biological Sciences students in the Semester I Examination of their first academic year will be the basis of their selection. The Department believes that the selection of students on the basis of their results of the first semester in the university gives all of them equal opportunities in the competition to study Microbiology. Based only on the academic performance of students who study Microbiology in the first two academic years, seven students are selected, at the end of their second year of studies, to study for the BSc Honours Degree in Microbiology.

The Department conducts a Postgraduate Diploma programme in Applied Microbiology, a Postgraduate Diploma programme in Food and Nutrition, an MSc Degree programme in Applied Microbiology and an MSc Degree programme in Food and Nutrition. Facilities are also available in the Department for research leading to MPhil and PhD Degrees.

The Department of Physics which came into existence with the commencement of the Faculty in October 1967 is one of the eight academic departments that belongs to the Faculty of Science of the University of Kelaniya. Since then the department has developed the academic programs, with revisions of the syllabi at regular intervals and improvements of the laboratory facilities. At present there are fourteen academic staff members including eight professors and about twenty temporary supporting academic staff members working in the department. In addition there are fourteen non-academic supporting staff members working in the department. Department consists of five undergraduate laboratories and one research laboratory. The Department of Physics also possesses facilities for research based MPhil and PhD degree programmes.

Course units related to the subjects, Physics and Electronics for the BSc degree are offered by the Department of Physics. Physics and Electronics may be selected by the students who enter the Physical Science subject stream. Because of the limitations in facilities, only a limited number of students who follow the subject, Physics, are selected to follow Electronics. Opportunities are available to follow the BSc Honours in Physics degree program for a selected number of students, based on their performance during the first two years. Those who wish to pursue higher studies in Theoretical Physics may obtain an Honours Bachelors degree by following Mathematical Physics. A selected number of students from those who show high competency in the subjects Physics, Pure Mathematics, and Applied Mathematics during their first two years are admitted to the BSc Honours in Mathematical Physics degree programme which is conducted collaboratively by the Departments of Physics and Mathematics.

The Department of Physics offers a new degree programme B.Sc (PHEL) starting from the academic year 2015/2016. This new degree programme consists of two main subjects, Physics and Electronics, together with selected course modules in Applied Mathematics and Pure Mathematics, Furthermore the degree programme also includes several compulsory course modules in Management, offered by the Faculty of Commerce and Management Studies.

The Department of Zoology and Environmental Management offers compulsory and optional course units for the B.Sc. degree programmes. The students who have performed well for the Zoology course units offered in the first and second years of their study will be selected for the BSc Honours in Zoology degree programme at the end of the 2nd academic year. In the BSc Honours in Zoology degree programme, more emphasis is given to the applied disciplines. A research project should be undertaken for the BSc Honours degree programme under the supervision of a Senior Academic Staff member and submit a dissertation based on the research work.

The Department of Zoology and Environmental Management mainly contributes to the BSc in Environmental Conservation and Management degree programme which commenced in the Faculty of Science in 2005/2006 academic year. The students who have performed well in the first two academic years will be selected for the BSc Honours in Environmental Conservation and Management degree programme. The Department of Zoology and Environmental Management conducts the entire BSc Hons (ENCM) degree programme.

The proposal submitted by the Department of Zoology and Environmental Management in 2012 was successful in winning a highly competitive grant funded by the World Bank, "Quality and Innovation Grant, Window 2 (QIG, W 2) of the Higher Education for the 21st Century (HETC) Project" for improving the quality of teaching-learning process of the Environmental Conservation and Management degree programme.

In addition to undergraduate teaching, the Department conducts an MSc degree programme in Aquaculture and Fisheries Management and research oriented MPhil and PhD degree programmes for graduate students.

The Faculty of Medicine of the University of Kelaniya was established in 1991, under the provisions of the Universities Act No 16 of 1978 and its amendments. The Founder Dean was Prof. Carlo Fonseka. The first intake of 120 medical students was registered on 2 September 1991 and they graduated MBBS in 1996.

The Faculty now has 17 Departments of study, namely: Anatomy, Biochemistry & Clinical Chemistry, Disability Studies, Family Medicine, Forensic Medicine, Medicine, Medical Microbiology, Obstetrics & Gynaecology, Paediatrics, Parasitology, Pathology, Pharmacology, Physiology, Psychiatry, Public Health and Surgery and Medical Education. The Faculty also has a Computer Centre, a Research Support Centre and a Molecular Medicine Unit. The Computer Centre is dedicated to providing computer training. It aids in self directed learning, maintaining an intranet and providing internet connectivity.

The Faculty of Medicine offers the following qualifications:

First degree:

Bachelor of Medicine & Bachelor of Surgery (M.B.B.S)

Bachelor of Science in Speech & Hearing Sciences (B.Sc. (S.H.S))

Postgraduate degrees:

Master of Public Health (M.P.H)

Master of Philosophy (M.Phil.)

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D)

Doctor of Medicine (D.M)

The MBBS study programme is of 5 years duration (with 3 terms in a year), with an organ system based, integrated curriculum. It has 3 phases of study as listed below, and which are described in more detail in the Handbook for MBBS students.

First Examination for Medical Degrees: the course of study comprises 5 terms and includes 4 continuous assessments.

Second Examination for Medical Degrees: the course of study comprises 6 terms of study and includes 6 continuous assessments.

Final Examination for Medical Degrees: the course of study comprises 5 subjects which are assessed separately with theory and clinical examinations.

The BSc (SHS) is a 4 year programme of study with 3 terms in each year. The curriculum is based on the course unit system. Each course unit is assessed at the end of the relevant term or academic year. At the beginning of the 2nd year of study, students are expected to choose one of two alternative study tracks: Speech and Language Therapy or Audiology.

The Faculty is located in Ragama, in a spacious campus of about 35 acres. It has approximately 1000 students on its roll now. This includes several foreign students, mainly from other South Asian countries, who have been admitted on a fee levying basis. The Faculty also welcomes students for elective appointments and many students from medical schools in Europe, USA and Australia have spent their elective periods in the Faculty.

There is a permanent academic staff of approximately 130 and, in addition there are over 40 temporary academic staff and over 60 visiting staff that include consultants who are based in the affiliated teaching hospitals.

In keeping with the need to expand and improve allied health services in the country, the Faculty established the Disability Studies Unit in 1993 and the Centre for Tropical Medicine and International Health, which conducts courses for primary health care workers, in 1999. The Molecular Medicine Unit was established in 2003 with the aims of improving molecular diagnostic facilities for infectious diseases and providing DNA finger-printing. In 2007, the Disability Studies Unit was upgraded to the Department of Disability Studies, the only one of its kind in the South Asian region.

Since 1991, the Faculty has produced a large volume of research publications. Several of the staff have been awarded prestigious prizes for research papers presented at national and international scientific fora and Presidential Research Awards. The clinical and paraclinical academic Departments have been recognized as training centres by the Postgraduate Institute of Medicine, University of Colombo. Postgraduate research degree programmes M.Phil, DM and Ph.D, are conducted by the Faculty under the auspices of the Faculty of Graduate Studies. In collaboration with the University of London, the Disability Studies Unit conducted a diploma course in Speech and Language Therapy; this course was upgraded to a Bachelor of Science Special degree course and the first batch of students based on A' level results were admitted in August 2008. Many of the Departments have academic links with foreign universities.

The Colombo North Teaching Hospital, which is one of the busiest tertiary referral centres in the country, is the main teaching hospital. University clinical Departments have wards in this hospital. Other allied teaching hospitals include, the Ragama Rehabilitation Hospital, Welisara Chest Hospital and Base Hospitals in Negombo and Gampaha. The Faculty provides hostel facilities for most of its students. It also has an open air theatre, sports grounds, a multi-purpose court and a gymnasium. Funds are being sought to develop a sports complex and a swimming pool. A Cultural Centre was opened in January 2009 and programmes in music, dance, art and photography are conducted. Yoga classes are held every Thursday afternoon. Tamil classes are conducted every year to enable our graduates to be able to practice in any part of the country. There is an elected Student Council and several other thriving cultural and literary student societies.

The Department of Anatomy undertakes the training of undergraduate medical students in their preclinical years. The preclinical training incorporates an integrated programme of teaching, involving all three preclinical Departments. The teaching curriculum is based on a module system which was introduced in the year 2004. This new module system incorporates a horizontally and vertically integrated system of teaching aimed at training these students to take up the final M.B., B.S. and also embark on postgraduate studies. Students are afforded a comprehensive knowledge in applied and clinical anatomy, tissue morphology and embryology. The Department also trains students following the Speech and Hearing Sciences course offered by the Department of Disability Studies of the University of Kelaniya, finally leading to a B.Sc. in Speech and Hearing Sciences. In addition, the Department conducts a series of lectures and practical sessions for a Diploma course offered by the Postgraduate Institute of Medicine, Colombo, and also a Diploma course in Physiotherapy and Occupational therapy.

The Department has a state of the art dissection theatre and a virtual laboratory. The Department also has a modern museum of dissected, preserved and mounted specimens. These mounted specimens enable students to study three dimensional views of gross anatomy specimens. The academic staff of the Department apart from undertaking student teaching is also involved in research fields in gastroenterology, osteology, sports medicine, human embryology, reproductive endocrinology and clinical genetics with special interest in thalassaemia.

In addition, the Department undertakes supervision of postgraduate students working for M.Phil, D.M. and Ph.D. Degrees.

The Department of Disability Studies (DDS) was started as the Disability Studies Unit (DSU) in 1993, under a collaborative agreement between the University of Kelaniya and the University of Uppsala, Sweden. In June 1995, the University Grants Commission approved the DSU as a regular unit of the Faculty of Medicine, University of Kelaniya. In 2008, it was upgraded to a department in the Medical Faculty. The objective of the DDS is to promote services for people with disabilities through education, research and information dissemination.

The DDS maintains a Disability Resource Center with over 800 books, a selection of videos and slides in disability related areas and has published a number of training manuals and books in Sinhala and Tamil, in collaboration with UNICEF and the Ministry of Social Services.

The DDS has been conducting a Diploma in Speech and Language Therapy since 1998, in collaboration with the Institute of Child Health, University College, London, and the Great Ormond Street Hospital. To date, over 60 Speech and Language Therapists from the Ministry of Health have qualified. The Department offered a Diploma to Degree (BSc in Speech & Language Therapy) upgrade programme in collaboration with the University's Centre for Distance and Continuing Education. From 2008, the Department has also been responsible for conducting a 4-year B.Sc. (Speech & Hearing Sciences) degree programme for internal students admitted directly by the UGC. This four year degree course qualifies students to work as either Speech and Language Therapists or Audiologists, on completion of the course.

The DDS also runs a Speech and Language Therapy clinic for the public. It provides assessments, diagnosis and intervention programmes for children and adults with communication and swallowing difficulties. These difficulties can be due to development delay, learning disabilities, social communication disorders (eg:- Autism), cleft lip and palate, hearing impairment, cerebral palsy, voice, dysfluency, motor speech disorders, aphasia and other language disorders, conditions related to neurological disorders and dysphagia. The programmes include care giver training, home intervention programmes, liaising with schools and school programmes and the running awareness programmes regarding disability issues through campaigns, exhibitions, literature, workshops and presentations for the public.

With the start of the B.Sc. SHS courses, the Department of Disability Studies initiated the start of an Audiology laboratory at the Faculty of Medicine in January 2009 in collaboration with the Sunflower Village, Mulleriyawa. The services available at the Audiology clinic target persons with hearing difficulties, and involve the diagnostics and provision of appropriate intervention programmes. The assessment, diagnostic and intervention process involves carrying out Audiological evaluations (PTA), Audiological diagnosis, appropriate recommendations and referral, counseling of patients and their families, providing appropriate amplification (hearing aid + ear mould), intervention programmes, aided testing and follow up. The donation of hearing aids was initiated in collaboration with the Sunflower Village, Mulleriyawa, to clients based on their economic status.

In addition, the Department of Disability Studies runs an on-site Speech and Language Therapy Clinic twice a week and a Developmental Clinic twice a week. The clinic is run by student clinicians under supervision from qualified speech and language therapists/lecturers. It offers assessment and on-going therapy to children, adolescents and adults with a range of speech, language and communication difficulties.

Recently, the Department of Disability Studies together with the Department of Psychiatry has begun a specialist Multi Disciplinary Clinic. In addition, plans are under way to establish a specialist Multi Disciplinary Dysphagia Clinic.

The University Family Medicine Centre established in the Faculty in 1996, provides a medical care service to the community and is also a teaching centre for undergraduates and postgraduates. The clinic, the first such centre to be set up in a Sri Lankan university, has had from its inception, a closed circuit TV system to function as a skills training laboratory for the teaching and learning of communication skills through video-taped replay of consultations. The University Family Medicine Centre is recognized by the Postgraduate Institute of Medicine for the training of postgraduates for the Diploma in Family Medicine and the MD in Family Medicine.

The undergraduate teaching of the Department is through the Behavioral Sciences and Ethics strand. In addition to didactic lectures and small group teaching activities conducted in the third year, students have a clinical rotation of one month at the University Family Medicine Centre in the fourth year. During this period the student are exposed to primary care therapeutics and a range of common problems encountered in family practice. Consultation skills and communication skills are taught through observation, role play and feedback. Group discussions are conducted on common clinical problems.

The Department is involved in teaching Public Health/Community Medicine to the medical undergraduates. The subject is taught as a strand running over the first four years of the course. Unique features of the strand are inclusion of a student research project and community based learning where the students take a lead role in promoting health and wellbeing of members in an assigned community, over a period of one year.

In addition, the Department also functions as a training unit for the postgraduates enrolled in the Doctor of Medicine (MD) in Community Medicine training programme of the Postgraduate Institute of Medicine. Staff members undertake supervision of postgraduate research in health and allied fields.

The first ever Master of Public Health (MPH) course in Sri Lanka is conducted by the Department. The staff members contribute to teaching in other degree programmes conducted by the faculty such as Bachelor of Science (BSc) in Speech and Hearing Sciences, Bachelor of Science (BSc) in Occupational Therapy, and Bachelor of Science (BSc) in Physiotherapy.

Learning Centred Education

The Faculty has adopted the learning centred education pedagogy for its programme design and delivery for the first time in Sri Lanka. A series of workshops were conducted both in Sri Lanka and at the University of Oxford, UK under the guidance of Prof. Lynn McAlpine, Professor Emerita of University Education Development, Oxford Learning Institute, University of Oxford to train the staff and adopt the curriculum to reflect learning-centeredness.

The learning centred education approach promotes active learning where the emphasis is placed on creating and managing tasks and activities which will empower student learning, both inside and outside the class. The pedagogical style required to enable active learning is different to traditional lecturing. A different set of instructional and assessment strategies are adopted in the learning centred approach to facilitate independent learning by the students. The lecturer will select appropriate interactive techniques from a host of such techniques available, in addition to mini-lectures, to achieve the intended learning outcomes. The lecturer will also use a set of different assessment strategies, both formative and summative, to assess the level of achievement of the intended learning outcomes by each student, based on pre-defined rubrics, during the entire course module. This places less importance on the traditional end of the semester exams, and a considerable percentage of marks will be earned by the students through continuous assessment throughout the module.

Industry Advisory Board

The Faculty of Computing and Technology has established an Industry Advisory Board in composed of eminent professionals from the industry, representatives from industry associations as well as representatives from professional associations.

The role of the Industry Advisory Board (IAB) of the Faculty of Computing and Technology (FCT) is to serve as a liaison between the FCT and the industry as well as other institutional stakeholders in order to support the FCT in the formulation and attainment of its Mission and Strategic Objectives. It plays a key role in providing inputs and recommendations to the FCT from an industry perspective and guiding the strategic directions of the FCT in terms of academic programs, research and partnerships.

Mr. Anuradha Tennakoon, Former Country Head/ Engineering Director, Zebra Technologies Lanka (Pvt) Ltd was elected as the Chairman of the IAB at the inaugural meeting held on 29th September 2016.

Outbound Training (OBT)

The FCT has introduced an outbound training program for all its undergraduate students. Through the OBT programme, the faculty has taken another step towards changing the attitudes and mindset of students from the traditional class room environment, and providing a valuable learning experience for accomplishing the life challenges and making a positive impact on their work performance. This programme will be held annually.

The first outbound training program for the young leaders of the Faculty of Computing and Technology at University of Kelaniya was held successfully at the Police Training College - Kalutara on 16th and 17th of September 2017. The two-day interactive program was organized by the faculty to improve the group dynamics and personality development of the undergraduates of the first batch (2015/2016) of the faculty. The event was geared towards enhancing the skills in competent leadership, building energetic and high-performing teams, trust-building, personality and self-confidence building, effectively working in diverse environments, facing and succeeding the challenges, creating an open-mind, effective and efficient decision making, and various other important skills that are necessary in improving the quality of student's academic and personal lives.

The objective of this unit is to prepare the students for careers. Making the students aware of employment opportunities available in the country and instructing them about the specific course units they should follow and extra-curricular activities they should pay attention to during their undergraduate life are the broad goals of this unit.

The aim of the Career Guidance Unit is to prepare students for the outside world and to assist them in finding employment.

Currently employers are looking for more attributes than simply the Degree. They are interested in interpersonal skills of the applicants such as communication skills, time management, teamwork, and organizational ability. The Career Guidance Unit helps the students of the University of Kelaniya to achieve these skills.

This unit gives the chance to the students to identify their goals and to go on that path by supplying information, advising them, training them and facilitating them to obtain their goals.

Creating links between private and public institutes and university students, identifying vocational needs and job opportunities of the private sector and making students aware of them are the hallmarks of this unit.

The Career Guidance Unit is annexed to the Kalana Mithuru Sevana, and is open during office hours except on weekends and holidays.

UoK Green Guide for Undergraduates

The University of Kelaniya is the first national Green University in Sri Lanka. It became a Green University after adopting an environmental policy on 10th December 2014. Since then the University has taken a number of steps to reduce its negative environmental impacts. The UoK was ranked as the first green University in Sri Lanka in the UI Green Metric World University Rankings (Website: greenmetric.ui.ac.id/) in 2016 and 2017.

What is a Green University?

The word “Green” has a wider meaning than greening consist of trees and vines. A Green University tries its best to minimize its negative environmental impacts by adopting eco-friendly approaches and practices. Accordingly, all the students and the staff members of the university are bound to minimize negative environmental impacts of their day today activities.

What you can do to save natural resources?

There is only one earth to live for all of us. The resources are limited in the earth. First, let us think about the natural resources that we use every day.

1. Air 2. Water 3. Soil 4. Trees and animals 5. Fossil fuels

Water - Do you waste water?

Only less than 1% of water available in our planet is suitable for human consumption. Thousands of people are dying every year due to lack of clean drinking water. Water is one of our valuable natural resources. By consuming water wisely, you will not only reduce the impact on the environment but also conserve it's balance; in addition, you will be fulfilling your duty to the future generations.

- Close the tap immediately after use
- Stop water leakages

Save water... Save life...

Energy – Why should we save energy?

We rely on coal, oil and gas (the fossil fuels) for over 80% of our current energy needs. The world's fossil fuel resources are rapidly depleting.

When we generate energy by burning fossil fuels, carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases are emitted to the atmosphere and it will eventually lead to global climate change. Wise consumption of energy will make you a person who conserves the natural resources for generations to come. It will also reduce your impact on global climate change.

Save energy.... Save the planet...

Air – Did you ever think that the air is vital for human life?

Air pollution is now one of the world's major environmental issues. Travelling, cooking and many of our day today activities pollute the air around us. The air we all breathe is increasingly contaminated with particulate matter and carbon monoxide. These pollutants are hazardous to human and environmental health..

Prevent air pollution, Protect nature

Solid waste management at the University

Sort your garbage before disposal. UoK uses four types of bins to separate waste.

You can dispose food waste directly Into a green color bin

Dispose plastic and polythene Into an orange color bin.

Dispose papers in to a blue color bin.

Dispose glass into a red Color bin

Do you have a desire to protect the environment we live in? Do you want to be a member of the green volunteer team? Visit our web site (www.kln.ac.lk/units/css) or FB page (GPC Green Practices Committee) for more details.

Why should you become a member of the Green Practices Committee?

You will get an opportunity to acquire knowledge and experience in environment management by participating in various training programs and workshops. When you graduate from the University, apart from the graduation certificate, you will receive another certificate as proof of your contribution to save the environment.
